

Here are the concerts coming to historic Sorg Opera House this spring

Staff - Staff Report

9:00 p.m Sunday, March 4, 2018 Filed in Local News

VIEW CAPTION

Middletown's historic Sorg Opera House announced its current "mini-season" of spring concerts. The Cincinnati Contemporary Jazz Orchestra's "Dizzy Gillespie Centennial," a big band bop tribute to Dizzy will be held at 8 p.m. April 7.

The Blue Birds Big Band plus G. Miles & the Hitmen, together on the same stage, trading funk, blues and old school R&B in a wood shedding contest will be 8 p.m. April 21.

The Blue Wisp Big Band's "Duke Ellington Birthday Celebration/Benefit," will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 28.

MORE POPULAR STORIES

The nation’s debate about arming teachers has a focal point in Butler County. Here’s why.

Hamilton residents want something done about train noise, but it could cost millions

A rare solo concert with Steppenwolf’s John Kay singing some of his masterful songs, telling stories about those songs and sharing insights about his foundation work will be held at 8:30 p.m. May 5.

Download the Journal-News app

Get the latest Butler County news you want, when you want, in this free app from Journal-News. Click a link below to get the app.

All seats are reserved. For more information or tickets, go to www.sorgoperahouse.org.

These concerts are booked but tickets are not yet on sale. The Dayton Jazz Orchestra on May 19, the Monday Night Jazz Orchestra on June 16, and Joe Mullins and the Radio Ramblers on June 23.

Sorg Opera House is at 63 S. Main St. Proceeds benefit the Sorg’s Renovation Fund.

VIEW COMMENTS 1